to go to the place where the people are gathered - and to see what they are doing. He then went to the place where the people were gathered, and saw them. They were all standing around him, and he said to them, "What are you doing here? Why are you not working?" They answered him, saying, "We have no work to do." He said to them, "If you will go to the field and work, I will give you work and pay you for it." They said to him, "We will go and work for you." So he gave them work to do, and they worked all day long.
When it was time for them to go home, he said to them,
"Come and get your pay." They said to him, "We have not been paid for our work.
We have only been given food and drink, and nothing else." He said to them, "I will give you what you deserve. You have worked hard all day, and you deserve to be paid for your work."

Poem by Guru Nanak Dev Ji written in Gurmukhi script

The poem is a dialogue between Guru Nanak Dev Ji and his spiritual teacher, Bhai Mardani. Guru Nanak asks Bhai Mardani about the nature of God and the purpose of human life. Bhai Mardani replies that God is formless and infinite, and that the purpose of life is to realize God through selfless service and devotion. Guru Nanak affirms this understanding and emphasizes the importance of love, compassion, and truth in one's actions.

you were to be. But I was very anxious. Professor who had been waiting to see him, was also waiting to see him.
He was to be at his old place, and he was to be alone.
I was to be there with him. But he had not come.
He was to be there, but he was not there. He was to be there, but he was not there. He was to be there, but he was not there.
He was to be there, but he was not there. He was to be there,
He was to be there, but he was not there. He was to be there,

and then we go on to the west side of the river.
The river is very narrow and the water is very shallow. We pass over a small bridge and then continue on the west side of the river.
