Handwritten text in an ancient script, likely Tamil, inscribed on a palm leaf. The text is arranged in three horizontal lines. The script is finely etched into the surface of the leaf. The first line contains approximately 12 characters, the second line contains about 10 characters, and the third line contains about 10 characters. The leaf shows signs of age, including some dark spots and a small hole near the top left corner.

Handwritten text in a script, likely a form of Malay or Indonesian, written on a palm leaf manuscript. The text is arranged in approximately four horizontal lines across the length of the leaf. The script is dense and cursive, with some characters appearing to be ligatures or specific dialectal forms. The leaf shows signs of age, including some staining and a small hole near the bottom left corner.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a form of Malay or Indonesian, written on a palm leaf manuscript. The text is arranged in four horizontal lines across the length of the leaf. The script is dense and characteristic of traditional Southeast Asian manuscripts. The leaf shows signs of age, including a small hole at the top left and some staining.
