Seventh block of handwritten text, ending the page.

The first part of the manuscript contains a series of lines of text, likely representing a list or a set of instructions. The text is written in a cursive script and is arranged in approximately 15 horizontal lines. The lines are densely packed and contain various characters and symbols, including what appears to be a large, stylized letter 'S' or 'C' in the middle of the page. The text is somewhat difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and the presence of some illegible characters.

The second part of the manuscript consists of a single line of text, which appears to be a concluding statement or a signature. The text is written in the same cursive script as the first part and is centered on the page.
